Introduction

School life at Johnstown High is made up of many varied activities, each acquiring some special talent, some hidden interest of each and every student. We cannot possibly show all these aspects of school life but will attempt to show in the following pages as many as possible, thus providing the student with a pictorial remembrance of his attendance at Johnstown High School.

DEDICATION

"I am not a teacher; only a fellow traveler—of whom you asked the way. I pointed ahead—ahead of myself as well as of you."

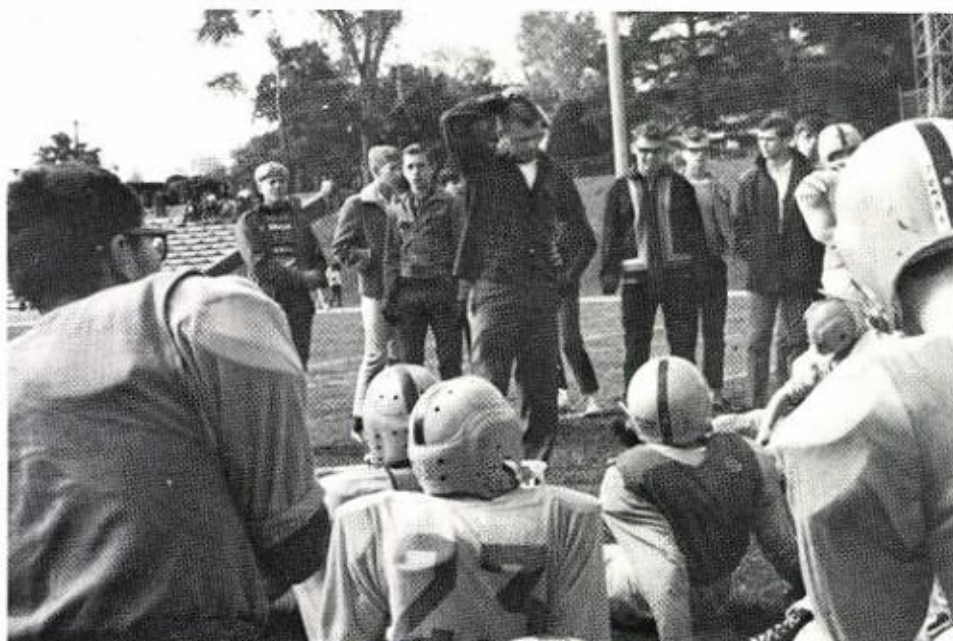

—GEORGE BERNARD SHAW

These must be the thoughts of the dedicated men and women who have guided us from our first school days until graduation. For they have journeyed always with us, while pointing ahead. A teacher must challenge, stimulate, and broaden a student during his care and Mr. Pollak, commonly known as the "Fox" or "Panda", more than fills this duty.

A sly FOX??

Mr. Pollak talks over game strategy with the freshmen at halftime.

*John & Ron
Have fun this summer & be ready for our homecoming next year.*

Along with his job of coaching the freshman football team the "Fox" can be found playing football on Sunday afternoons, and playing basketball on Thursday nights at the "Y". His understanding and school spirit have made Mr. Pollak a loyal friend to students of all ages, and so to show our loyalty and respect, we, the Baronet Staff, dedicate the 1968 Baronet to;

Mr. William Pollak

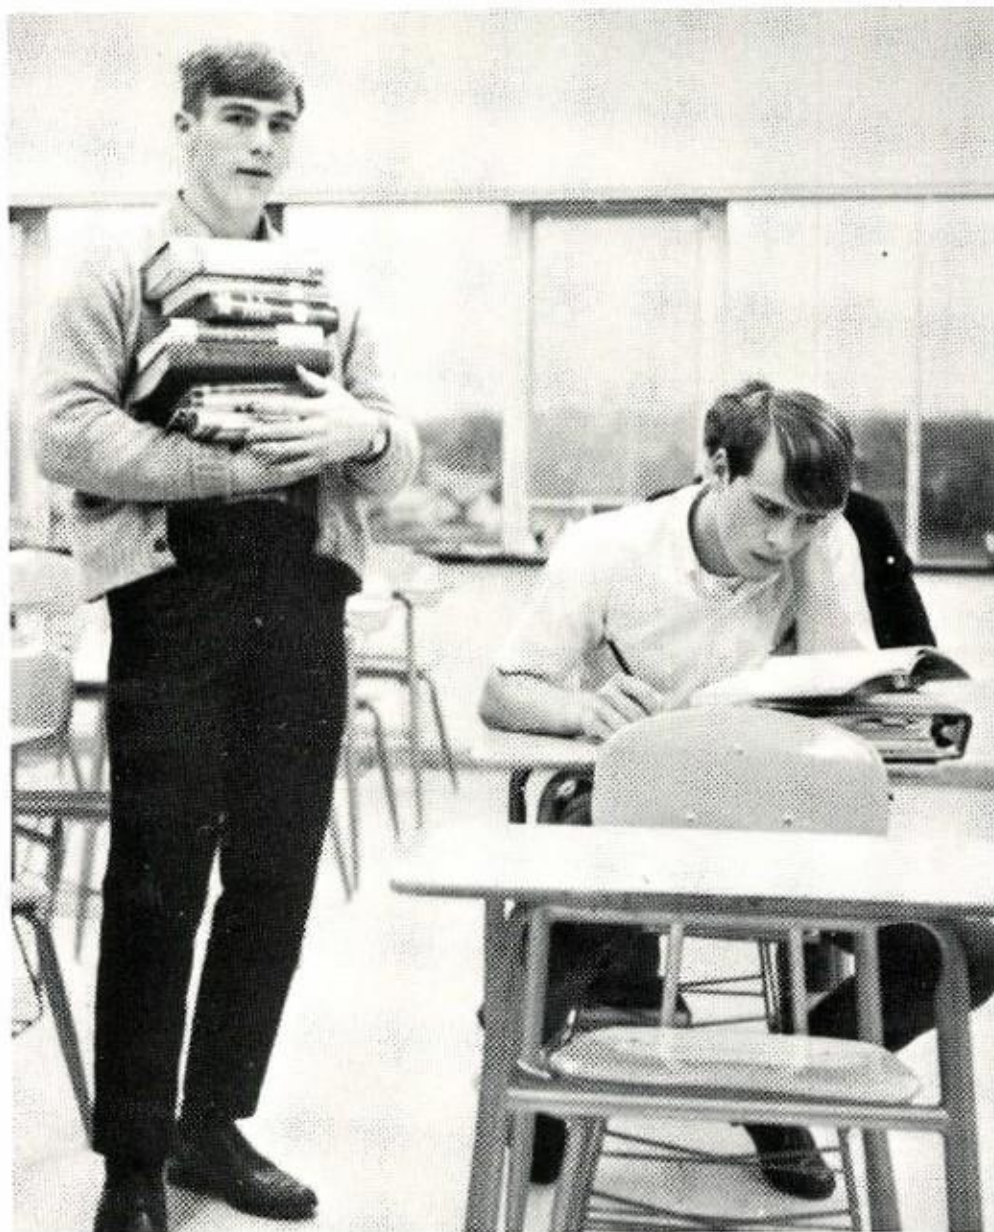

"A thing of beauty!"

Academic Departments

English

The ultimate goal of English classes at Johnstown High is to prepare the student for college and the challenges which he will face in the future. The English language is a complex and necessary tool for progress in any field. Through four years of English, the arts of oral and written communication are taught to all grades with the intention that through these abilities good relations may be established among our people. The English department is headed by Mrs. Lorence whose task is to help acquaint students with the many facets of the English language.

Jim VanHorne works diligently on an assignment while Dick Spraker has other things in mind.

Chris Howe is reading Pierre Boulle's Face of a Hero, which was required reading for all Seniors.

Dorry Losk seems to be engrossed in her term paper for her English class.

Ingrid Curtis places a United Nations flag on the bulletin board in room A-30.

Jim Smrtic checks the stock market for his Economics class.

Social Studies

At J.H.S. the problems of today are discussed and studied on levels suited to the degree of maturity of students and their capacity for understanding values and concepts. The purpose of the Social Studies Department is to further that knowledge and understanding by offering courses which will relate the history and problems of today to those of yesterday and thus show that in solving these problems man can gain a whole new outlook by studying man's failures and achievements.

Sue Ortell consults the world atlas in the library.

Science

Students learn to think logically and begin to understand the fundamentals of life and why these things are needed to sustain life when they study general science, earth science, biology, chemistry and physics. The science department has a science curriculum which is orientated to meet the needs of all students at J.H.S. The weekly lab periods are a chance for the student to partake in the incredible mechanisms which are a part of the structure of man and the world around him.

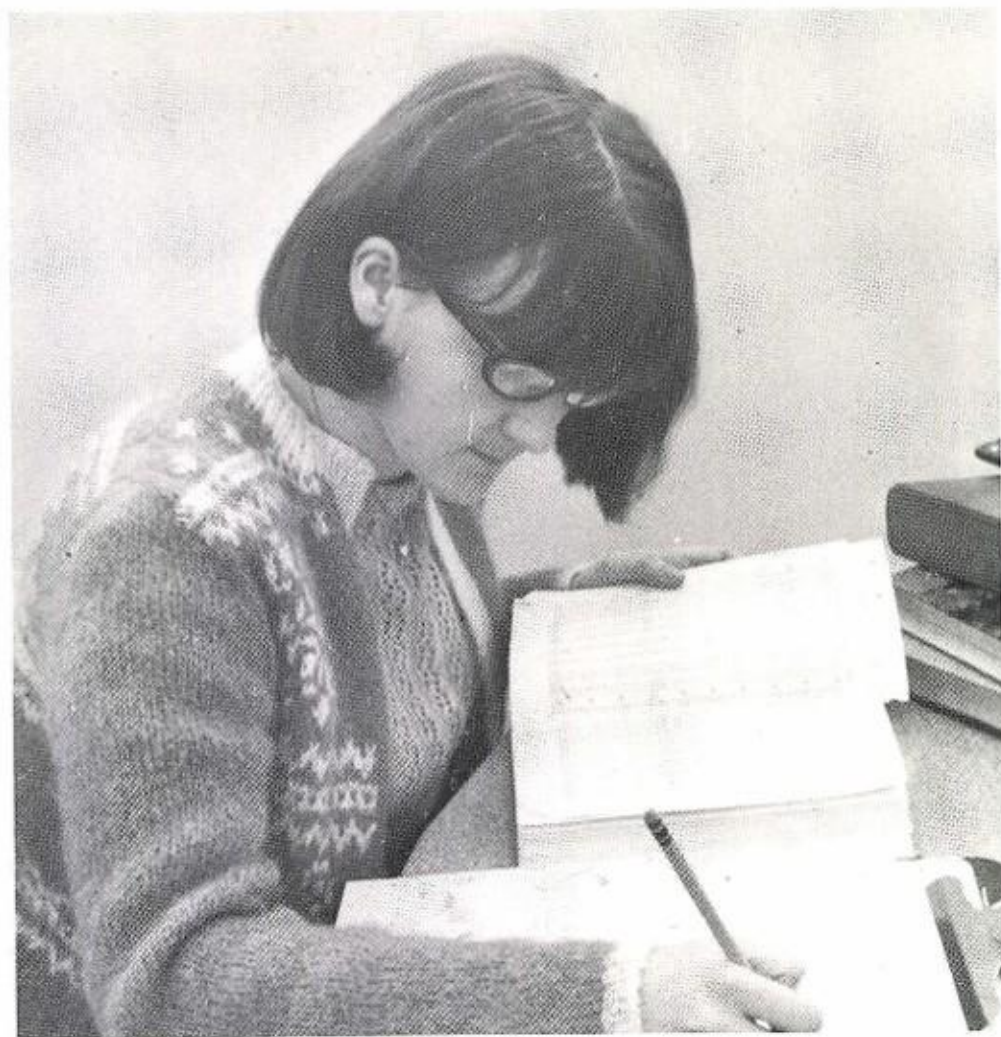

Kris Ackerbauer sets up an electrical circuit for physics class.

Mr. Popp goes through a demonstration for one of his chemistry classes.

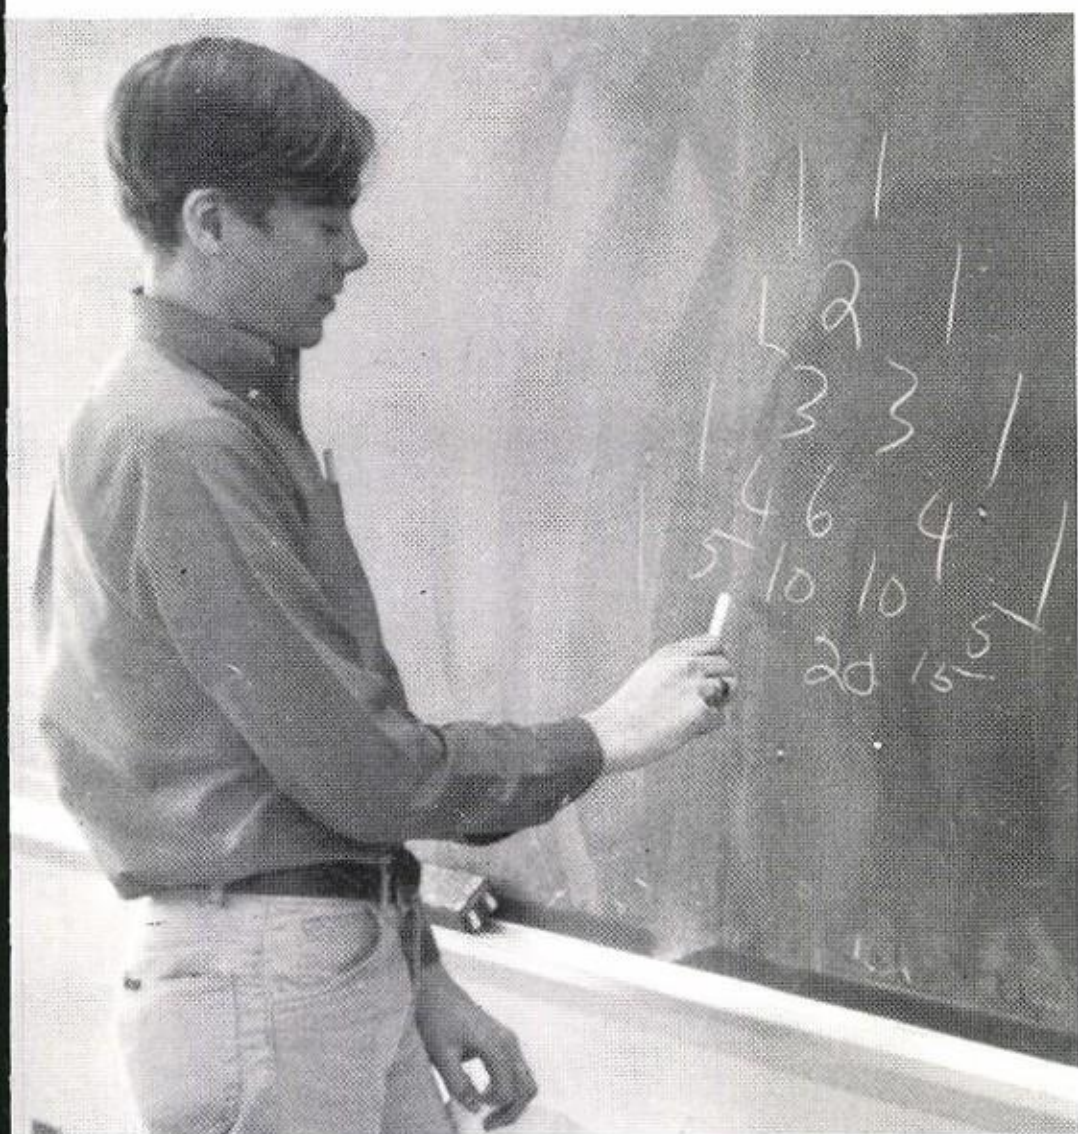

Bill Brinkman examines the molecular composition of a model of a calcite crystal.

Linda Sleezer works hard at her Math II homework, trying desperately to understand logarithms.

Dave Thomas receives a little counseling from Mrs. Saunders, head of the Math Department.

Kris Ackerbauer fills in the figures of Pasquel's triangle.

Mathematics

The Math department, headed by Mrs. Saunders, plays an important part in Johnstown school life. In recent years Colleges have stressed more and more one's ability in Mathematics as a factor in acceptance to college. The department offers courses from basic and general math to complicated and difficult courses which prepare the student for the many new jobs being created everyday in the space program.

Jackie Henry conjugates a French verb.

Diana Chadwell and Candy Marshall receive extra help with Latin from Mrs. Jewel.

Foreign Languages

The increasing emphasis being placed on foreign languages can clearly be seen at J.H.S.

Four year sequences are offered in French, Latin, and for the first time German. There is also a Russian club for those who wish to pursue that language.

All foreign language students use the language lab where they listen to tapes and respond accordingly. These tapes are recorded by linguistic experts.

Jeanne Stroud, a German IV student, reads along with a recording of Goethe's Faust.

Mrs. Painter's personal typing class goes over skills for accuracy.

Commercial

Occupational and vocational skills are taught by the Business Department with the hope that these skills will later aid students in their continuation of education or employment.

Courses in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, business law, salesmanship and business management are offered individually, while a course in secretarial and office practice included these skills plus those needed by a professional secretary.

Bernie Neuhaus listens attentively while taking shorthand.

Connie Passero using the adding machine.

Driver Education

Driver education has an important contribution to the school program. It promotes the safe, efficient, and rewarding use of the automobile, fostering a strong sense of personal responsibility for traffic cooperation in solving public problems; develops a pride in high standards of performance and conduct. Driver Education is taught by Mr. White and Mr. Dunlap.

Mr. Dunlap rides "shot gun" in the Driver Ed. Dodge.

Industrial Arts

In the various areas of industrial arts, Mr. Boerner and Mr. Rossbach train the hand and mind. There are classes in automotive principles, wood and metal working, electricity and electronics. While working in these different areas, boys learn skills that will be used in the home or future occupations.

Mr. Boerner lectures to his auto mechanics class.

Art

Kathy Duchala puts the finishing touches on her sketch.

Home Economics

Jeanne Zinter demonstrates her ability in opening clothes washers.

The Art department lends an exciting side to Johnstown High. Mr. Corbett teaches all mediums, from painting and drawing, to sculpture and pottery making. His classes in Advertising and design prepare the talented pupil for an exciting career in Commercial Art. One has only to glance in the Art room to observe the works of real and promising talent.

The Home Economics department strives to prepare girls for a position in life as a housewife or a career in the everchanging field of home economics. Our well-equipped kitchen provides the girls with first hand experience in home-making.

The department also presents an annual tea for faculty members.

Administration

Mr. Wm. Lampe, Mr. Peter Raneri, Mrs. Catherine Moynehan, and Mr. Frederick Franko check enrollment figures.

Johnstown Board of Education

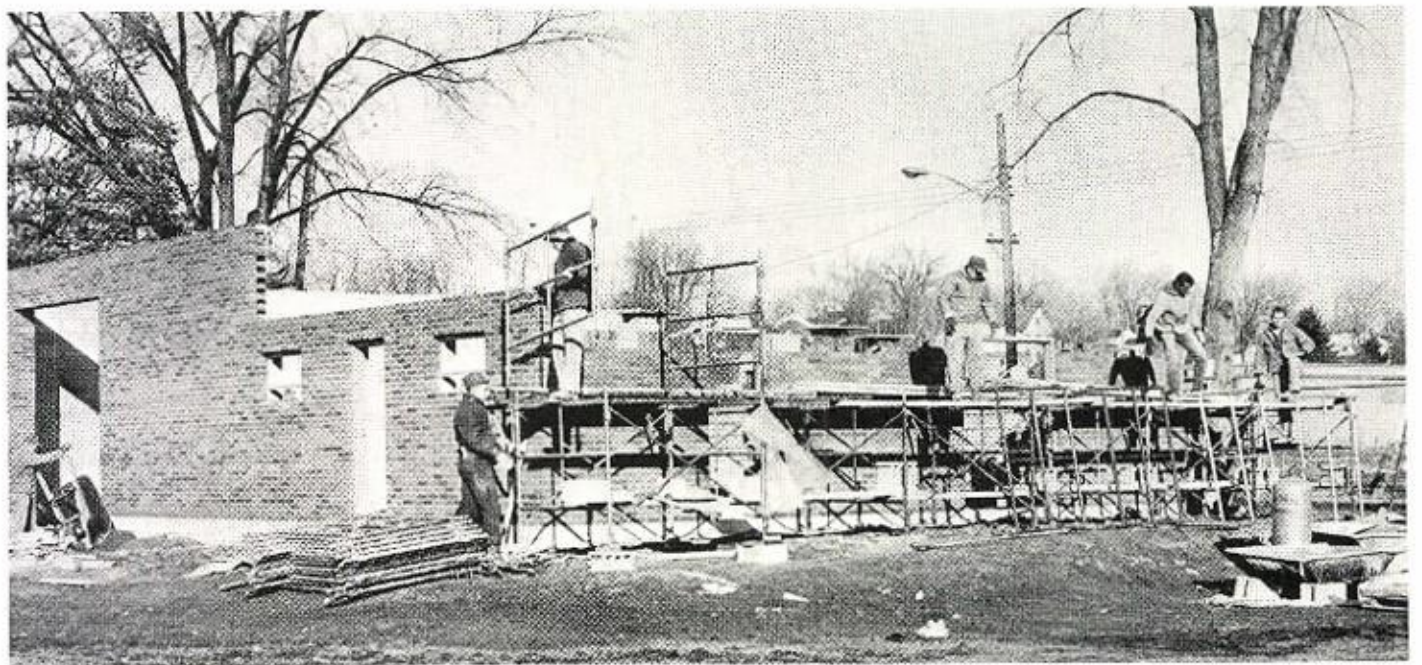

Mr. Robert Cross, Mr. George Graham, Mr. Carl Diltz, Business Administrator, Mrs. Lucille Mc Intyre discuss curriculum.

Vice President Mr. Harry Christman confers with President Elmer Kelly on the budget as superintendent Mr. Robert Agone looks on.

A new field house was constructed on Knox Field this year.

Mr. Landrio and substitute teacher Mrs. Barter discuss a typing problem.

Chief Cavaretto is about to get her ears lowered by Dick Jung.

Mrs. Painter explains a principle of law to Business Law student, Tony Santangelo.

Mrs. Aldrich administers a standard vision test to Sally Knipler.

J.H.S. Health Services

Along with checking on student attendance after absence, the health department offers numerous services to J.H.S. Eye and ear examinations are given to most students and Dr. Howard is available each Wednesday for thorough physical exams for school athletes and student working papers.

This year the health department presented six films to the student body on such important and contemporary health problems as alcoholism, narcotics use and mental health.

SENIOR CLASS

1968 ... It's finally arrived! We're graduating from J.H.S. with many memories and the special distinction of being the first class to have had all four years in the new building.

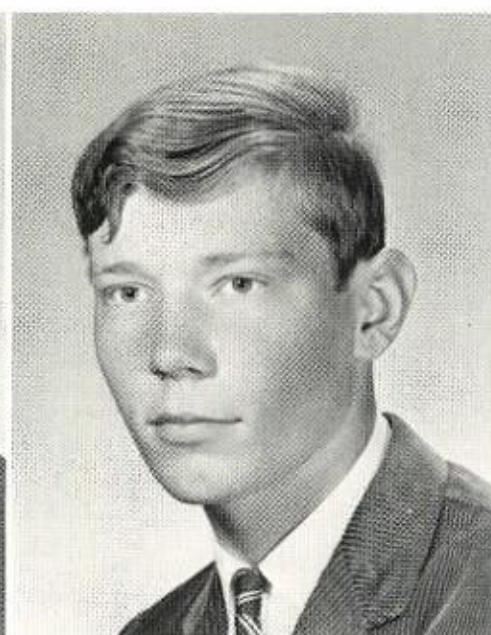

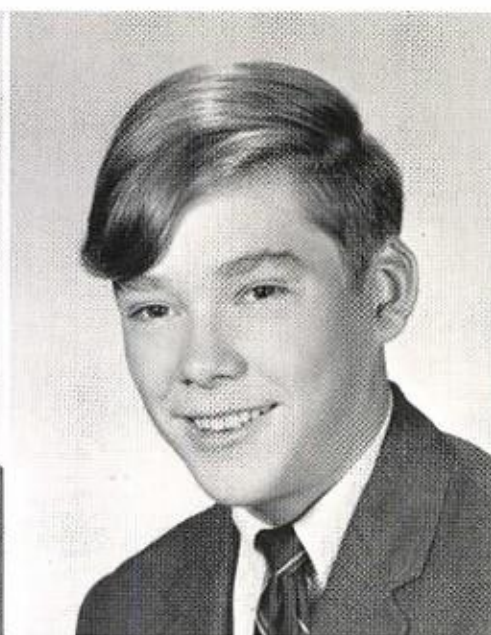

We've come a long way since that day four years ago when we entered high school as scared freshmen. We had a wonderful prom in 1967, a successful senior play in 1968, and brought many honors to J.H.S. in scholastics, sports, and community service.

Our senior year was our busiest and most unforgettable with college interviews, fund raising events, College Boards, settings for senior pictures, fittings for caps and gowns and of course homework!

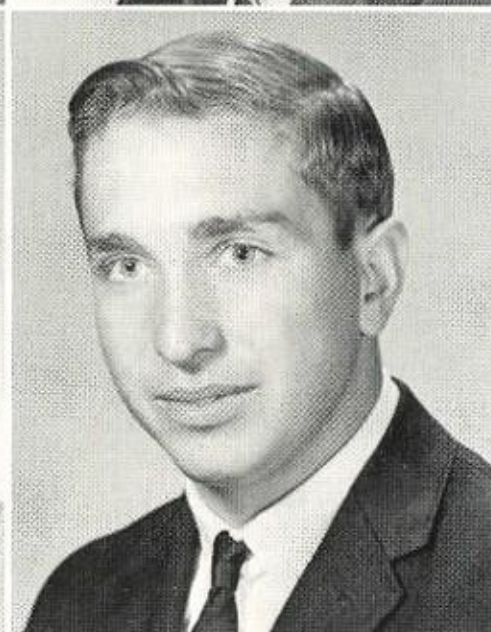

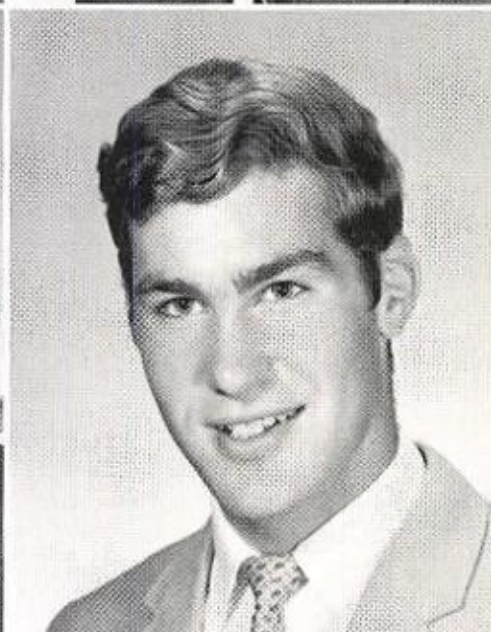

Then all too soon, there was the senior banquet, the ball, and the culmination; of twelve years of study, commencement.

JUNIOR CLASS

The class of 1969 is on its way! In the fall our class rings finally arrived and we took the P.S.A.T.'s.

The money we raised by selling programs at basketball games and at a very successful dance made our marvelous prom in the school gym possible.

As juniors, we took an active part in the life of Johnstown High School. There were juniors everywhere . . . Juniors in varsity sports, student council . . . Junior cheerleaders, band members, majorettes, in chorus, in the Debate Club, and on the Junior Red Cross.

As our junior year draws to a close, we are looking forward to our last exciting year at J.H.S., and we wish to give special thanks to Mrs. Painter, our class advisor, for being so helpful to our class, in all its functions.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Once again, with the move of the ninth grade back to the Knox building, we're the youngest class at J.H.S.

But we've shown ourselves to be worthy members of Johnstown High School by our participation in athletic events, clubs, and organizations. Each day brought many new experiences and opportunities, IWOA Tests, ordering class rings and sponsoring a very successful dance and numerous bake sales during the noon hour to help boost our treasury.

With many thanks to Mrs. Hogue and Mr. Popp, our class advisors, we are looking forward to our last two years at J.H.S.

Honoraries

VALEDICTORIAN

Ranking first in the class of '68 was Edward Caraco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas of 1 East Green Street. Ed has been active in student council, Ski Club, Key Club, Honor Society and was editor-in-chief of the Baronet.

Ed plans to attend Colgate University with as yet an undecided major.

SALUTATORIAN

Barbara Wagschal was the recipient of the Salutatory award. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wagschal, Baronial Heights. Barbara has been a member of Debate Club, Tri-Hi-Y and Junior Red Cross.

Barbara hopes to attend Syracuse University to major in Chemistry.

National Honor Society

Leadership, Scholarship, Character, Service

These are the four requirements for membership in the National Honor Society. The activities of this year's society included planning assembly programs for Johnstown High and inducting the members of Gloversville High's chapter of the National Honor Society.

Honor Society president John Graham, Mrs. Saunders, and Ed Gaydusek discuss the article on the honor society in the J.H.S. handbook.

Seated: Joe Brewda, Ruth Ann Popp, Joyce Canary, Betty Hulsaver, Ed Caraco. Standing: Cathy Blakeslee, Kris Ackerbauer, Jim Smrtic, Dave Gunneson, Barbara Wagschal. Missing: Carmen Caraco and Dan Ackernacht.

Every year at J.H.S. football plays a major role in the lives of the students. The sport is awaited anxiously by both the students and the whole city.

Under the direction of Mr. Underwood, the team felt that they had a good season, and although they lost the biggest game of the season, Gloversville, many of them felt that if the game had been played under different conditions, the team would have won.

'67 Football Cheerleaders Carry On J.H.S. Traditions And Boost School Spirit "They Didn't Mess Around!"

This year as always the football cheerleaders led the crowd in cheering our team on to a good season. The cheerleaders had to cheer in 70° heat, in rain, in snow, in mud and cold, but they cheered the team on. To boost team spirit, they held pep rallies before some of the games. They carried on the J.H.S. tradition of going to church and breakfast before each game with the team.

The climax of the season was, of course, the annual Johnstown-Gloversville skit. This humorous program helped in preparing J.H.S. students for the biggest game of the year.

In the Section 2 Meet, Preston was 8th, Chamberlain 9th, Dwyer 11th, Callery 15th, Putman 21st, and Miller 27th. In the Western Conference Meet, Baker 1st, Preston 3rd, Dwyer 4th, Chamberlain 6th, Putman 9th, Callery 10th, and Miller 18th.

An average team at the beginning of the season, the J.H.S. squad developed into a league and Section 2 title contender. The experienced nucleus of Co-captains Fred Putman and Greg Baker, Jeff Preston, Tom Callery, and Chuck Dwyer was joined by first-year man Tom Chamberlain to give J.H.S. fine representation this fall. The team won all of its dual league meets quite handily, and won the Western Conference meet for the league championship.

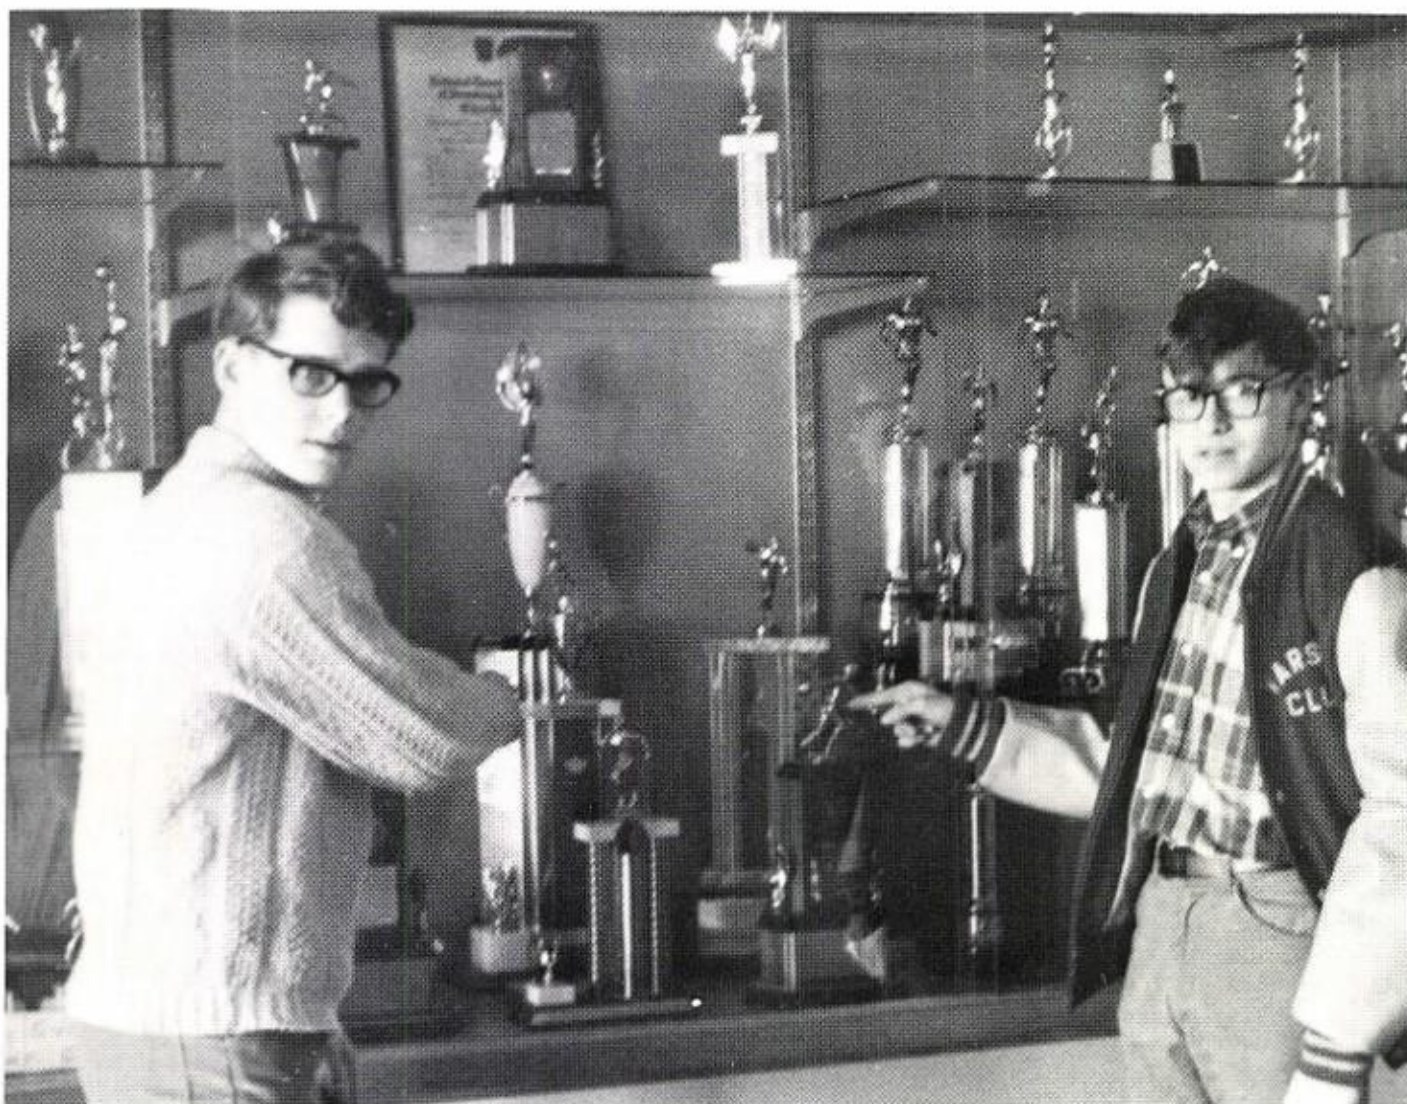

Not having one of their good runs, J.H.S. finished second to Cobleskill in the Section 2 meet. In other meetings with this team during the season, Johnstown had been victorious by a few points. A difference of six points sent Cobleskill to the State meet. No other Class "B" teams in Section 2 gave our squad much competition and many Class "A" teams fell victim to them.

An outstanding performance was given this season by Co-captain Greg Baker. He became the first J.H.S. runner to win the Section 2, Class "B", individual title. He was also top runner in the Western Conference. He broke the J.H.S. records on all courses on which he competed.

Basketball Cheerleaders Show Spirit And Enthusiasm

Kathie Sands, Dorry Loske, Capt. Steenburgh, Nancy Talarico, Mary Jane Fazzio, Sally Knipler.

Jayvees

Arousing spirit at every game, this year's basketball cheerleaders rallied students and fans to cheer the team on to victory.

To promote school enthusiasm, posters were made and hung throughout the halls and the gym. As a highlight to the season, preceding the J.H.S.-G.H.S. game, the cheerleaders presented a skit for the first time, showing how great our team is and predicting a successful year. It was an appropriate opening for the exciting season. Another pep rally was held later in the season to help keep school spirit alive.

Qualified Lettermen Form New Club

For boys to be eligible for membership in this organization, they have to have earned a letter in a varsity sport at J. H. S. It is then the responsibility of the members to aid in school functions and activities. Under the direction of Mr. Dunlap, the members have sponsored two car washes to aid them in the purchase of jackets which are given to any member who has earned three letters in any varsity sport. They also donated money which was used for the building of the "J" that stands in our gym during our basketball games.

Continuing their fine support to aid the cheerleaders, the Pep Club has expanded its activities to include the selling of banners, pins, and shakers in addition to the flowers for the Johnstown-Gloversville game. From this money they helped pay for the wood that made the "J" which stands in the gym during our basketball games. Money was also used to buy the supplies to make the many signs adorning the school halls building school spirit.

Marion Sofka sells a shaker to Paulette Borden.

This year, the major activity of the J.H.S. Key Club was to aid the Kiwanis Club with Student Government Day. J.H.S. Juniors filled the offices of mayor, aldermen, county supervisors, county clerk and sheriff for one day.

The members also had the opportunity to eat lunch with the Kiwanis Club and observe how their meetings are run.

The girls in the Red Cross Hospital Youth Service do many hours of volunteer work at the Johnstown Hospital after school and on Saturdays. Their duties include feeding patients, changing beds, delivering flowers and newspapers, and running errands for the nurses. The girls find the work very rewarding and worthwhile.

Mary Jo Kitchen seems to be enjoying her cap.

HEH Schussboomers — '68 Is Memorable For Ski Club

Providing winter athletic enjoyment was the main purpose of this year's Ski Club. Mr. Corbett proved to be a fine advisor, as the club journeyed to North Creek Ski Bowl and Gore Mountain Ski Center. The club also held one of its annual cook-outs at Royal Mountain.

Officers were:
 John Graham—president
 Kris Ackerbauer—vice president
 Jennifer Foss—secretary
 Bill Brinkman—treasurer

John Graham, Ski Club president, slices through a gate at Royal Mountain.

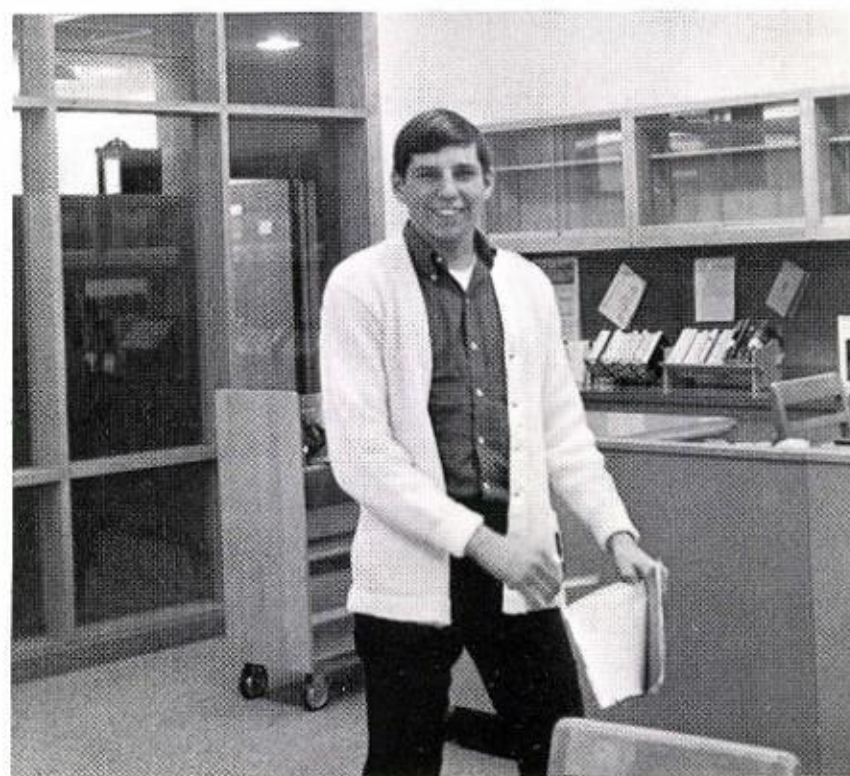

Seated: Shirley Blowers, Betty Hulsaver, Gloria Christman, Joyce Canary, Carol McCartel. Standing: Miss Evelyn Elwood, advisor; Mary Bronk, Ruth Ann Popp, Mark Fuller.

Students Keep
Library Running Smoothly*

The J.H.S. Library Club is an organization for students who are interested in aiding Miss Elwood with continual, smooth and efficient library service. The club also holds several teas for the faculty annually and this year went on several trips. Library club members who show a consistent desire to serve are rewarded with a pin at the end of the school year.

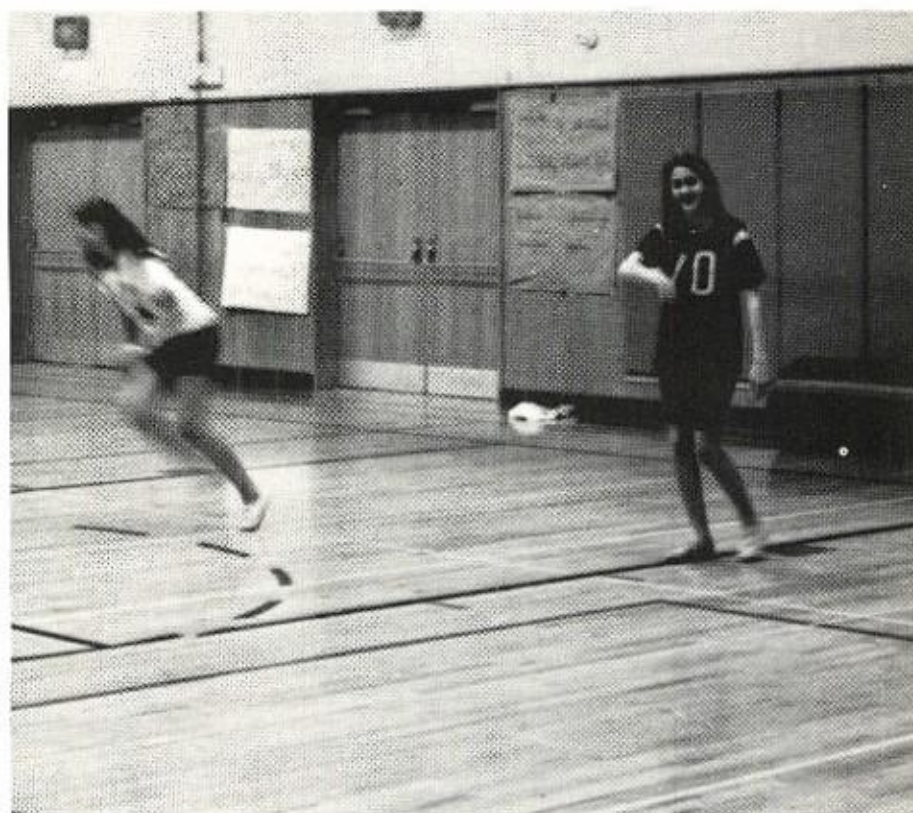

Ronny Pedrick looks over-joyed to be in the library.

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association provides sports-minded girls an opportunity to participate in organized sports. Meeting each week, the club aids the girls in learning the regulations of sports and in developing strong bodies.

Diane Horning seems "over excited" as Louise Edwards sprints to the other side of the gym.

Miss Cavaretto instructs the club's president, Janice Carpenter, in the use of an adding machine.

Business Club

The aims and purposes of the Business Club are all beneficiary to the business students of J.H.S. Interpreting the role of business in America, acquiring economic understanding, and group projects of a business nature aid the interested commercial students. Talks on various business schools in the state guide the students who wish to continue their business education.

Meetings are held on the third Friday of every month. This year's officers were:

President: Janis Carpenter
Vice-Pres.: Sharon Diodato
Sec.-Treas.: Bernie Neuhaus

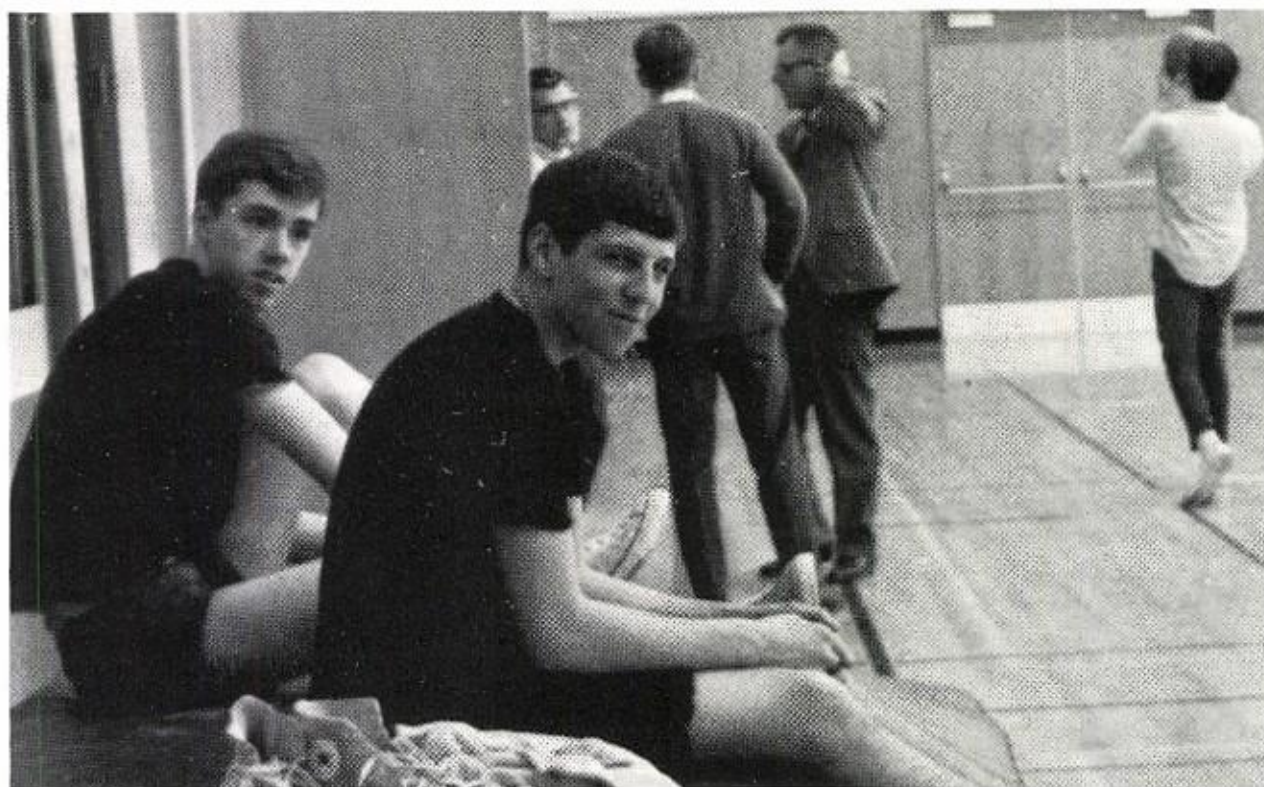

Medical Arts Club

Girls interested in nursing and other medical careers find the Medical Arts Club useful, as it shows them what the future in such professions has to offer. Films acquainted the members with various aspects of the field of medicine.

Juliane Burtman, president of the Medical Arts Club, discusses plans for club activities with Mrs. Aldrich, school nurse.

'67 Junior Prom

Tom Agone, Sue Smith, Dick Jung and Camille Liccardi seem to be enjoying themselves at the Prom.

Jim Smrtic escorts Cathy Baker in the Coronation Ceremony.

The 1967 Junior Prom was an overwhelming success. Attendance exceeded everyone's expectations and surpassed previous years by a large number—nearly 100 Junior couples attended the gala affair.

The J.H.S. gym was elegantly decorated and truly represented a "Colonial Garden".

The theme, Gone With the Wind, was carried out expertly right up to the exciting moment when Debi Race and Dom Fazzio were crowned the royal couple on the veranda of the Colonial Mansion.

Paul Knipler, Jane Bowers, Ed Klena, Kathy Coons, Sarah Schelle, and Dave Slingerland.

The '67 track team was the Western Conference champion for the fourth consecutive year, being undefeated in all of its dual meets.

The team's strongest areas were middle and long distance events, broad jump and pole vaulting.

Our team was led by some of Johnstown High's most able athletes. Co-captains were Mike Malatino and Emmy Jones. Other outstanding performers were the Squires brothers, Marty Krempa, Lloyd Sweet, Errol Jones and Dick Spraker.

Mr. Dustin's first year as Varsity coach proved very successful. J.H.S. can be sure that there will be many more to come.

Errol Jones, who represented Section II at the state finals in Buffalo, is starting off his triple jump. Errol also broke the school records in the triple jump and broad jump.

Jim Wilmot and Don Wilson are

Lloyd Sweet is the first miler to cross the finish line.

Nice swing Bob, but no dice.

Varsity Baseball – 1967

Coach Purcell had high hopes for the 1967 baseball team, but the team's record was not as outstanding as expected. Bob Bean was one of the bright spots and his name was put on the baseball plaque in the main lobby of J.H.S.

Things look good for next year's team with four starters returning. The infield should be strong with a nucleus around Tony Santangelo and Tom Kralovic. There will be great depth in catching and batting; two pitchers will also be returning.

The J.V. squad was coached by Mr. Benton and should have a fine team again in '68 with the help of the sophomore boys.

The Senior Class of 1967 presented the play, "The Scent of the Roses" on March 24, 25, and 26. This event was held for two reasons: to raise funds for the Senior Class and to give the histrionic students of the class a chance to perform. The play was directed by Miss Rosanne Ferrara, a member of the faculty.

The Class Play Of 1967

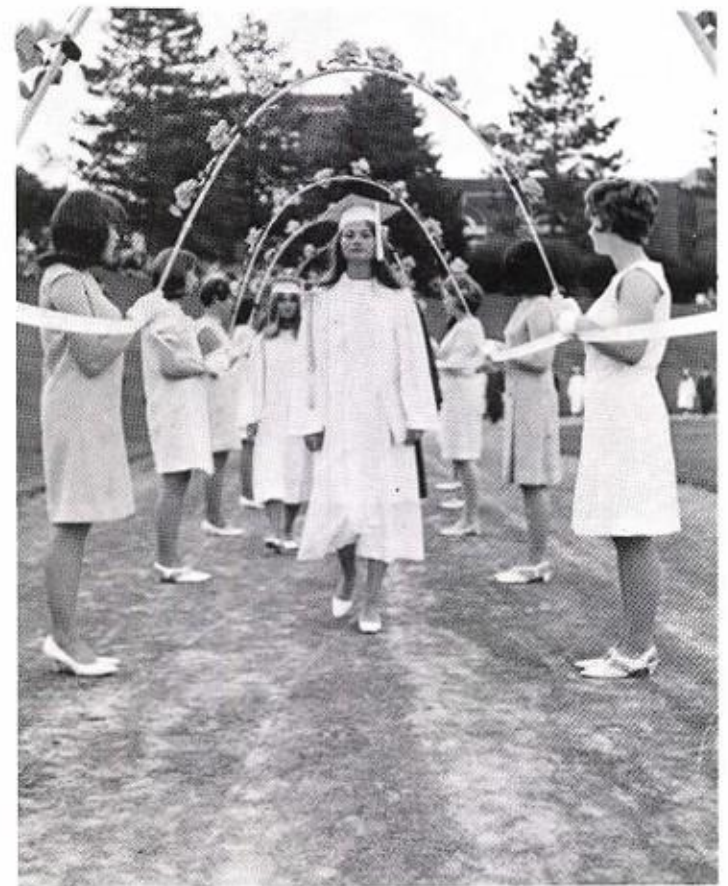

Jack and Ned struggle through a tough scene.

Guest speaker at the '67 Commencement, Dr. William Gragg, president of Fulton Montgomery Community College, and president of the Board of Education, Mr. William Lampe walk to their places of honor.

The curtain rose for the final scene in the lives of the students of the Class of 1967 in June. After four years of hard work and good times, they reached one of the most important crossroads in their lives, that of exchanging the student life for the adult life. In the years to follow, they will remember the years at J. H. S. as the "home" where they found guidance to aid them for all their lives.

Valedictorian Bernadine Hladik leads the class of '67 on to Knox Field

Of '68*

Alma Mater

All hail to the Johnstown High
With her banner of Purple and Gold
As long as that banner shall fly
Our hearts shall be wrapped in its fold.
Good comrades we 'ere shall remain
Prepared to protect her from all peril,
To keep from her memory all stain
Hereby we pledge devotion to the
JOHNSTOWN HIGH SCHOOL
